

BOARD OF TRADE DELEGATES DISCUSSED SEVERAL RESOLUTIONS

Law Amendments, Teachers' Salaries, the Cattle Embargo,
Good Roads Among the Topics Considered

After the election of officers the convention took up the discussion of the resolutions. The first resolution was introduced by Mr. Boyle of Regina. The resolution called for the abolition of present excise and duty on "denatured" alcohol and wood alcohol which is now rapidly coming in as fuel in the place of oil and gasoline. Mr. Boyle cited that similar action had been taken by the United States Senate in the face of the strenuous opposition of the Standard Oil Company. The removal of the tax would render it cheaper and available for the purposes of fuel. The tax is $1.90 per proof gallon, while it can be manufactured for 25c a gallon. Besides it can be made from waste material such as sawdust, frozen grain and potatoes. Mr. Copeland, of Saskatoon, saw danger in the use of such a commodity and recommended caution in the matter. Mr. Noble, of Medicine Hat, showed that in Germany where the question had been thoroughly and scientifically studied, alcohol was being made from potatoes which afforded a new market for the farmer and accordingly had enhanced land values. The people of Canada were not alive to the importance of this cheap fuel for fuel. Mr. McKellar, of Moosejaw, did not think the question was one of pressing need at this time and might be left over. Mr. T. W. Lines, of Edmonton, said that it was a vital question and intimately concerned everyone interested in cheap fuel and power. It was as good gasoline for gallon as gasoline and only half the price. Mr. Ives of Lethbridge also supported the resolution, which carried.

Law Amendments.
A resolution on this question was introduced by Mr. McCrea, of Regina, and supported by Mr. Short, of Edmonton, to the effect that a commission should be appointed by the governments of the two sister provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan to codify the laws relating to commerce and business that lay within the jurisdiction of the provinces and to give them uniformity and clearness in the interests of the mercantile classes.

Mr. McKinnon, of Strathcona, pointed out the extreme difficulty of such procedure, but the resolution passed.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
The convention resumed business at 2 p.m. The committee on credentials was appointed, composed of Messrs. Cousins, Medicine Hat, Barford, of Lethbridge, and Fisher, of Edmonton. When the revised list of the resolutions came from the printer the convention got down to business in earnest and disposed of eleven resolutions during the afternoon. The discussions were keen and interesting and showed that each delegate was well informed on his particular line.

Mr. McCrea, of Regina, moved that the Associated Boards of Trade as now constituted continue for the year 1907, in view of the transition which exists at present, and commended the Government of Saskatchewan for the passage of the Assignment Act. Mr. Laird seconded the motion. Mr. Strang of Winnipeg thought that the term "Associated Boards of Trade" was too indefinite, and that Alberta and Saskatchewan had no right to speak for Manitoba and British Columbia. Mr. Copeland pointed out that Manitoba could come into the Association if she desired. The convention desired uniform conditions throughout the entire west.

The resolution was adopted.

CANADIAN STANDARDS.
The next resolution called for legislation from the Dominion Government to compel all imports to be marked according to Canadian standards. Mr. Macdonald of Strathcona said this especially referred to liquids. He showed that the consumer on this side of the line is often deceived by the smaller measure used by the United States dealers. Mr. Cluff said that the United States agents were selling oils to foreigners in this province who were not familiar with the difference between the United States and Canadian gallons. Mr. Barford of Lethbridge advised the convention that the resolution was necessary and could easily be obtained by enforcing the existing laws. Messrs. Copeland and Strang supported this view. The resolution was modified to read: That the Dominion Government be requested to enforce the law compelling all imports of goods to be marked according to Canadian standards of weights and measures.

Resolution No. 1 was lost after some discussion. The convention deemed the present condition preferable to that implied in the resolution.

Resolution No. 5, introduced by Messrs. Eorle of North Battleford, and

CANADA'S TRADE GROWS RAPIDLY

Bills Relating to Land and Immigration Making Good Headway

Ottawa, June 13.—Canada's foreign trade for the fiscal year ending with June 30th, will be about $550,000,000. This will be an increase of about $80,000,000 over the previous year. Up to the end of May last the foreign trade of the Dominion was $485,000,000, an increase of $74,000,000 over same period last year. Last year's total trade was $400,000,000. Imports for the past eleven months were $262,521,427 and exports $225,813,462. There was an increase of $24,146,800 in the imports and in the exports of $49,890,360. There was an increase of $3,789,701 in mineral exports, of $13,782,234 in fisheries, of $1,325,915 in lumber, of $3,614,339 in animals and animals' products, and $22,409,500 in agricultural produce, and $381,931 in manufactures. This is the best statement ever issued by the customs department. For the month of May there was an increase of over $60,000,000 in the exports and over $30,000,000 in imports.

Hon. F. Oliver's bill to exchange school lands for certain other Dominion lands was read a third time. Dr. Thompson called attention to the necessity of marking the 111st meridian, the boundary line between Alaska and Yukon, as the Canadian and Americans had mining interests close to the Canadian line. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Canada had been pressing upon the United States the necessity to do this and it was finally arranged that the matter would be attended to very early.

Mr. Oliver's immigration bill was nearly all put through, three or four clauses being held over for further consideration. There was some opposition to the clause giving power to the government to impose a $2 tax on immigrants arriving in Canada as a means of preventing undesirable.

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL.

The branch lines bill passed the railway committee of the Commons, as did also the Georgian Bay Canal bill, with an amendment permitting the government to take over the company's property at any time on notice and by paying for the work actually done and the value of the company's tangible property. The Pacific and Eastern bill for a line from Victoria to Fort Churchill was opposed by McKenzie & Mann and the Hudson Bay and Pacific in the senate railway committee but eventually carried by 16 to 11.

ENGINEER MET FATAL ACCIDENT

struck by a Pole While Leaning From His Cab

Medicine Hat, June 13.—John Toll, a C.P.R. engineer, met with an accident which will prove fatal as the base of his skull is crushed in. Toll was driving his locomotive on the Cron Foot gravel train and in entering a siding at Batray was struck by a pole, it is thought, while leaning out of the cab. His fireman found him lying on the floor of the cab unconscious with blood running from his ears and mouth. He was brought back to the general hospital here on the morning express and is still lying in a state of coma.

Halifax, June 13.—This was nomination day in Nova Scotia for the general election which will be held June 20th. There are straight party candidates in fifteen out of the eighteen counties. In two counties, Victoria and Antigonish, the Liberals win by acclamation, one of those elected being Premier Murray.

TORONTO RECTOR DIES SUDDENLY

Toronto, June 13.—Rev. J. Pitt Lewis, rector of Grace Anglican church, died suddenly today. His death is not a little sensational inasmuch as there was a heated discussion in the Synod between him and Bishop Sweatman, the latter at one time bringing him sharply to task and telling him to sit down. The point in dispute was a regular which it appears was issued by a committee without the sanction of the Synod.

FIRE DESTROYS WHARF AND VESSELS

Baltimore, June 13.—The Savannah wharf was totally destroyed by fire today. The fire started in a scow alongside the wharf and made quick headway. In a few minutes the entire wharf 600 feet long, was a mass of flames. The steamer Essex, which arrived in port several days ago, caught fire and was towed into the harbor, where she was entirely destroyed. Eight scows and barges with loads of cotton and rosin burned.

Three of the crew of the Essex perished in the flames, and five others were rescued with difficulty on a tug. The loss is $2,000,000.

BASEBALL MEETING

Postponed Until To-morrow Night on Account of Board of Trade Banquet—Will be Held in Thistle Rink

The baseball and athletic club meeting which was arranged for at the Young Liberal club tonight had to be postponed until tomorrow night at 9 o'clock and the place of meeting changed to the Thistle rink.

The change from tonight to tomorrow night was made necessary by the fact that the board of trade banquet in the rink this evening will engage the attention of many business men and members of the council who are anxious to attend the meeting and who have requested that the change be made.

The change from the Liberal club to the rink was necessitated by the regular meeting of the mock parliament tomorrow evening.

There is also a council meeting tomorrow evening, but the mayor and city council will be asked to endeavor to hurry proceedings as much as possible so as to be able to get around to the athletic organization meeting as early as possible and the same request will be made of the young Liberals.

The indications are that tomorrow evening will mark a new era in athletics in Edmonton as there is now no doubt that it will mark the beginning of organized baseball in this country and the affiliation of athletics of all kinds for this city under one comprehensive and business-like head.

Frank Goode reports today that he has secured subscriptions for $2,000 worth of stock and before the meeting tomorrow evening he will run the figures up to $3,000 or over. He promises a pleasant surprise with regard to grounds, as there is every indication that this question will be handsomely settled. Everyone interested in baseball, lacrosse, hockey, cricket, football and every other kind of athletics is invited to be present tomorrow evening and see what is going on.

ASSISTANT HEALTH OFFICER SEVERELY CROSS-EXAMINED

Hospital Rules Were Conveniently Lenient When Nursing Staff Was Short

In the afternoon session of the isolation hospital investigation yesterday Mr. Beck resumed the examination of Sidney Main, the assistant health officer. Main said that he had put in a year as a medical student in the old country and three years at hospital practice, also in the old country, when he studied bacteriology. He had made an examination of the bacteria from the boy Asher's foot and had found the germ of septicemia, a mild form of blood poisoning. He assisted Ned and Merkle to dress the foot and found the flesh rotting about the wound. He telephoned Dr. McGibbon about the matter, but could not fix upon the date on which this occurred. About the same time Ned reported to him that the patient's temperature was 105.

Mr. Biggar took the witness in hand and producing a copy of the chart of the nurse in charge at the time, showed that there was no temperature of 105 shown at that time, and Main said that if the copy was a correct one it was very misleading.

Regarding his experience in hospital practice, Main admitted that he had spent the first year at the University of London in the classes, and the two years following and the second two years in the laboratory, studying bacteriology. This was practically his first experience as a hospital nurse. He had had experience in one infectious case before that. The partition between the scarlet fever and diphtheria ward, when both were in the shack, was made of inch boards, nailed on one side of studding. There were holes in the partition through which the light could be seen. Main said he did not think the wall was safe.

Leslie was the second nurse to come on. He was attending the first diphtheria patient. Main attended the scarlet fever patient and cooked for both until his scarlet fever patient was discharged. That was on the 14th of February. Leslie had access to the kitchen where the cooking was done. On the 10th of February a chickenpox patient came in, at this time there were two nurses, Main and Leslie. The chickenpox patient did his own cooking in the same kitchen and on the same stove as Main did the cooking for the scarlet fever and diphtheria patients.

Between the 3rd and 10th of March there was a measles, diphtheria, diphtheria suspect, erysipelas and scarlet fever patient in the hospital. Main was down town for four or five hours a day and Leslie was nursing the diphtheria patient. For four hours of the day Main was not there; for the remainder of the day he nursed the erysipelas, measles and scarlet fever patient. From the 14th to the 25th of April McLade, who had come on by this time nursed a measles and erysipelas patient. McLade did the cooking and dish-washing for both. Main was working down town at this time. He kept the books for

TEACHERS' SALARIES.
The question that elicited the most general approval of the convention was the regulation of Mr. Saunders of Moose Jaw who pleaded for higher salaries and better treatment of public school teachers. He thought a most important work in the community there was no permanence and dignity in the profession today. Mr. Saunders submitted a list of the maximum and minimum salaries showing that Alberta was paying higher salaries than Saskatchewan. His desire that equity of the resolution be sent to the association of education and to every school board in the two provinces. Mr. Macdonald declared the whole community was interested in three great questions: Agriculture, business and education. The greatest gift a parent could bestow upon his child was a good education. Hence we should aim at the highest in our school system. The duty of the board of trade to support every school in carrying out the terms of the resolution. Mr. Gregory of North Battleford pointed out that the resolution gave no practical solution and said each board should not ask the applicant to state salary. The Government should be urged to increase the salaries for every grade. Mr. Macdonald of Edmonton was in sympathy with the spirit of the motion, but was dubious as to the effect of legislation in increasing salaries. Raising the salaries would afford a refuge for inferior and incompetent teachers, since ambitious men could not be enticed to remain in the profession. Mr. Macdonald of Strathcona was in favor of the Government fixing the salaries as had been successfully done in Nova Scotia, while Mr. Copeland thought that since the state had a right to educate the hands of the parents it was imperative that the teachers should be thoroughly trained and the schools rigidly inspected. The resolution passed unanimously.

CATTLE EMBARGO.
Not less interesting was the discussion on the cattle embargo. The resolution of the cattle embargo, which had been passed by the Imperial authorities, was the subject of much discussion. Lines of Edmonton, who wanted it to be proved once and for all that our cattle were healthy and then bring it strongly before the Imperial authorities. We should fight on, and cast of the stigma resting upon the cattle trade. And whereas the money now expended upon roads is largely of but very temporary benefit and often of no benefit whatever.

Mr. Cowell, of Red Deer, spoke from the standpoint of the Englishman. The resolution implied that the embargo was maintained because it was alleged Canadian cattle were diseased. A British statesman believed this. It was a mild dose of protection which was cloaked by this monstrous fiction. Mr. Cowell quoted from the report of an agricultural convention held in Glasgow in 1901, in which the Canadian cattle and sheep that Canada was exporting were found to be healthy in the world, and that the restriction imposed upon Canadian cattle was unjust.

Mr. Ives of Lethbridge gave a new turn to the discussion, by declaring the government should go into the cattle export trade and save the people from control of Canadian ironmasters and P. Burns & Co., who were the local dealers in cattle. Under them a beef steer would bring only $37.50 which if shipped direct by the producer would bring $42.50. The farmers were being imposed upon, he said, by the local dealer and the whole question could be solved by the Government going into the export cattle trade.

Mr. Pearce of Calgary was of the opinion that the embargo was not such a serious injury to the cattle trade as was generally supposed and wished the resolution sent back for amendment which was done.

EASTERN SHIPPERS.
Resolution No. 8 was presented by Mr. Cluff of Strathcona, who declared that dealers and consumers in the west were not sufficiently protected against fraud by eastern shippers. The farmers of the east did not know the article required by the western dealer. Mr. Macdonald pointed out it was not the farmer, but the small packers that were at fault.

GOOD ROADS.
The resolution concerning good roads came in for some acrid criticism from the delegates. The clause that was most strongly objected to was the deputation clause, which stated that "a comprehensive plan should be adopted with a view to provide by means of deputation charges upon the lands benefited." Messrs. Ives and Macdonald declared it was equal to placing a mortgage upon the land and was unjust and that it was interfering with personal liberty to make the farmer pay the taxes and have his money spent at the dictum of a commissioner. The resolution was referred back.

LAW OF AGENCY.
A resolution of Mr. Macdonald, introduced a resolution to protect the law of agency from the public from the frauds sometimes unwittingly perpetrated by agents unfamiliar with the law. It was in the public interest that a corporation employing agents should clearly disclose such agents' authority and power.

WESTERN MARKETS.
Mr. Pearce of Calgary introduced his resolution on enlarging the markets for western products. He urged that the government should organize statistical and intelligence bureaus in conjunction with the department of agriculture in order to keep the farmer and manufacturer in close touch with the conditions prevailing in the home and foreign markets. The resolution carried.

The convention adjourned until 8 p.m.

EVENING SESSION.
On resuming in the evening the convention discussed and passed the amended resolution on the cattle embargo question.

The president then called upon Hon. W. T. Finlay, minister of agriculture, to address the meeting. In opening the Minister said agriculture was the most important department in the public service since the farming industry was the foundation of every business in the country. It was his intention to do all possible to help the farmers. One thing he had already done was to take up the creameries when the Dominion government had signified their intention of taking up this work. The success of the undertaking was seen in the increased sale price of butter, which primarily benefited the farmer. The government could handle 2,500,000 lbs. of butter this year, thus distributing over half a million of dollars among the farmers of Alberta. The department took the butter and stored it in cold storage points where it waited for an advantageous market. Last year the government shipped 50,000 lbs. of butter to Japan, thus relieving the congestion of the local market and incidentally aiding the buttermakers. The speaker intimated that the pork industry was the government might undertake the sale of the feeding of water cattle. He said mixed farming was the only sure basis of good times in all years.

Another matter that was engaging the attention of the government was that of wider markets. New railroads could create an outlet to Eastern Canada, but the fact that last year Japan took a large quantity of our butter was significant. As we might be able in the near future to establish a market in the Far East for our cereals. We should ask the Dominion government to establish commercial agencies in China and Japan to create a trade with those places so that when we had a surplus we would have a ready market awaiting us. The minister said more systematic and intelligent methods in agriculture and was sure the convention would do their part to reach this desired end.

The convention then returned to the discussion of the good roads clause which had been referred back to the committee in the afternoon. A vigorous discussion followed with the result that the deputation clause was left out. The resolution then stood as follows:

9. Edmonton, Whereas good common roads for the country for vehicular traffic are of the utmost importance to the public at large,

And whereas heretofore little or no attention has been paid to securing such roads,

And whereas the money now expended upon roads is largely of but very temporary benefit and often of no benefit whatever,

And whereas the saving to the public annually by having paved roads, good at any and all seasons of the year, could be of great aggregate importance,

Therefore be it resolved,

(1) That the government be requested to provide legislation that will best give effect to construction and maintenance of good roads, keeping in view an equitable basis of taxation to give effect thereto, it being suggested that one cent debentures be levied against the lands or interests proportioned to benefits given would best meet what is desired.

(2) That a comprehensive plan be adopted with a view to providing funds for such roads as shall be permanent and available in all seasons.

The resolution of the Edmonton Board of Trade concerning the metric system was presented by Mr. Macdonald and adopted after an interesting and vigorous discussion which elicited the fact the business men of our country are not satisfied with our present standard of measurement.

GRAIN STANDARDS.
Ottawa, June 13.—W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture of Saskatchewan, was the chief witness in the matter of the grain standards investigation today. He advocated the appointment of a commission to study the whole question. He supported the view that the word "plump" should be eliminated from the definition of No. 1 hard but was not unwilling to see that the percentage of hard wheat remain at 75 per cent. He thought that mixing in elevator should be declared illegal.

Mr. Wood of Oakville, Man., contended that great injustice was done to farmers by the elevator men in mixing grain before it reached Winnipeg inspection. He endorsed the idea of a commission.

Mr. Fletcher of Strathcona spoke of conditions in northern Alberta. Mr. Grier of Macleod, contended that Alberta Red should be put in a class by itself. He contended it was actually graded on the basis of Ontario wheat which was not fair. He complained that the rates on Alberta railways were high, a charge of ten cents per hundred pounds of grain being imposed for sixty-six miles.

The convention resumed business this morning at ten o'clock. The chairman read a statement from ex-Chief Justice McGurrie, of Prince Albert, expressing regret at being unable to attend.

The same committee on law amendments that had the matter in hand last year was re-appointed, consisting of Mr. J. H. Macleod, Messrs. Macleod, Muttel, Short and Hutchings.

The resolution respecting hospitals was passed, while the resolution of the Board of Trade regarding the right of more rigid inspection of settlers' effects was lost.

Mr. Ives' resolution concerning the restriction of bonuses was adopted, as was also the resolution of the Regina delegation in regard to the postal service. Mr. Young's resolution concerning sugar production was adopted with an amendment which included not only sugar but all products grown and manufactured in Western Canada.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE BURNED

Brandon, June 12.—Fire this morning destroyed the slaughter house of Jas. Burchill, situated north of the river. The entire building was destroyed and also eight pigs. The boiling over of tallow was the cause of the fire. The loss will be $1,000 on the building, no insurance.

VILLAGE HALF BURNED

Sodus, N. Y., June 12.—Half of this village was burned today. The loss was more than $100,000. The bank and post office are among the buildings destroyed.

CHEERED ALICE AND HER HUSBY

NOTED AUTHOR DEAD

BRILLIANT MONTREAL WEDDING

Montreal, June 12.—St. George's church was the scene of a fashionable wedding this afternoon when Edith B. Molson, only daughter of Dr. Molson, was united in marriage to Richard Benedict Van Horne son of Sir Wm. Van Horne.

AN THE CAPITAL

Ottawa, June 12.—It is said there will be two patrol cruisers on duty in Hudson's Bay this summer, one in charge Capt. Berrier and the other in charge of Major Moodie. The headquarters of the police will be changed from Fullerton to Fort Churchill.

Premier Rutherford may be ready to leave for home tomorrow. Premier Scott arrived today.

Hon. W. S. Fielding introduced a bill to redeem worn coin at par. Mr. Foster complained today in the House because members cheered Cind Mars when he appeared at the bar of the House the other day and said the matter should be treated with dignity. Sir Wilfrid said he could not prevent the members cheering if they were determined to do so. Hon. W. R. Emmerson, speaking on the transcontinental, said that the whole route from Winnipeg to Montreal had been surveyed and preliminary location surveys had been made over the whole route. The Government had paid about $350,000 for surveys.

DISCLOSURES AND CANADIAN TRADE

London, June 12.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Baker asked whether in view of the disclosures regarding the source of supply of tinned meats, the importation of which is increased largely by the exclusion of live cattle from Canada an inquiry should not be made regarding these supplies, and particularly whether the encouragement of importation of live cattle is advisable. Hon. John Burns said that an inquiry is being made into the condition of the meat supply. The question of importation was one for the agricultural department.

SHOULD LOCK THEM UP

London, June 12.—Henry Labouchere's suggestion that all anarchists should be locked up finds considerable support here. He argues that the reasons which compel the secret police to keep all anarchists under constant surveillance, namely, their tendency to assassinate and restrain such as criminal lunatics. Howard Vincent, M.P., formerly chief of Scotland Yard, contends that such country should keep its own anarchists. He says deporting them is a criminal error. Italy and Spain drive a thriving export trade in anarchists. He thinks the States and England are criminal in neglect in giving these miscreants an asylum.

REGINA AND THE BELL CO.

According to the Regina Standard that city is up against the Bell Telephone Co. The Standard says:

At present a deadlock exists between the city and the Bell Telephone Company so far as the removal of the poles off the streets at present undergoing local improvements is concerned. P. C. Paterson, northwest manager for the company, has spoken fair words during his visits to Regina, and has hinted at some steps being taken at some time in accordance with the desires of the city engineer, but the pavements are waiting to be laid, and there is nothing doing on the part of the corporation. It is possible that when citizens are just beginning to get the advantage of their new and expensive streets, the Bell Company will come along and rip them all up again and lay down conduits for its cables.

Hon. C. Fitzpatrick announced in the House a few days since that legislation would be introduced during the present session to cover such cases as this by securing to municipalities the control of their streets. A bill affecting the Bell Company, was held back pending the passing of the new act in order that that company might be made amenable to the amended law.

A FALLEN MODEL

There is a lesson on the beneficent results of high protection in the recent revelations, official and unofficial, into the operations of the Beef Trust in the United States. The name of this combination is misleading as they handle not only beef but pork. And if the charges brought against them are true, they have displayed no fine discrimination as to what might be legitimately considered either beef or pork, and have been still less particular as to the processes or conditions necessary to give this raw material some reasonable semblance to the substance indicated by the labels. Generally they appear to have taken as raw material everything which could claim to have ever been a candidate for either the beef house or the pork factory and to have treated the subject according to its needs. Seasonings calculated to obscure the identity and previous condition of the products were supplied in whatever quantity necessary and without regard for the consequences on the consumers. This may have been due to a merciful desire to hide the truth and it may even have been that the preservatives were intended as disinfectants, but the consumer has an irrefragable desire to know what he is eating, and in this case he had no assurance that the disinfectant was dangerous only to the germs.

Now the one great industry which Canadians have been asked to regard as the example and proof of the splendid results of high protection has been the packing industry of the United States. At this we have been asked to gaze and marvel and grow envious. To the Canadian farmer this has been pictured as the means which made the American farmer wealthy and to the Canadian consumer as an industry so entirely laudable that it should be duplicated on this side of the boundary. Especial emphasis has been laid by the tariff advocates on the specialized nature of the industry in the United States and the consequent burden of their song has been that the Chicago packers utilize "every portion of the pig except the squeal." It does not appear to have come home to the United States consumer until quite recently that these words were literally true and that he has been eating "everything but the squeal," nor does the information appear to have afforded him the same degree of satisfaction that it did the envious economist on this side of the line. From the present attitude of the consumer in the United States that gentleman appears to have some deeply grounded prejudice against eating "everything but the squeal" and the worst fate he has been able to propose for the packers who have arranged this bill of fare for him is that they be required to subsist on it in future.

The revelations of the manner of conducting affairs in packings have played havoc with the notion that a highly protected industry will reward the public by fair dealing and its employees by fair treatment. Men are commonly supposed to rob under pressure of necessity. Not so with the Beef Trust. Secure in the shelter of a protecting tariff, and in the heyday of prosperity this corporation has treated its victims with less conscience than a self-respecting highwayman. And its treatment of its patrons has been excused by its criminal maltreatment of its employees. We have no evidence that Canadian packers have been either able or anxious to treat their customers or employees in the manner of the Beef Trust—but neither have we any assurance that under similar conditions they would not develop similar proclivities, even to the degree of wringing dividends on watered stock from the putrefied carcasses of tuberculous cattle and cholera-smitten hogs.

TERMINATE THE FEUD

The public is growing very weary of this friction between Commissioner Hargreaves and the city engineer, and not without cause. The one great public work which was expected to be undertaken this year—a work necessary to the welfare of one half of the city and estimated to cost nearly a quarter of a million dollars—has been hung up until the middle of June very largely because these two officials through misunderstanding of their respective duties and powers have been checking each other's plans. The work cannot now possibly be completed during the year and that portion of the city dependent on it for the establishment of sanitary conditions must go without sewers in consequence.

The city council should speedily determine whether the disagreement between these officials is a difference of expert opinion or an expression of personal animus. If it is the latter the services of both should be dispensed with without delay. If it is the former the ultimate choice between the plans rests with the council. They should make this choice carefully and deliberately. Having made the selection the council should empower the official whose plans have been adopted to carry them into execution, and should prevent any other official from blocking or preventing the work, whether his opposition arise from difference of judgment or personal feeling. This would tide over the incident and permit the prosecution of this badly needed enterprise, though it would not of course remove the uncertainty of authority which permits the friction between the Public Works Commissioner and the City Engineer, and from which the present incident arose.

In this connection is Ald. Manson's query as to who is referred to as the Public Works Commissioner, the query being apparently equivalent to a contention that there is no such official. There certainly was such official not long since, and if there be none now when was he relieved of the title and the duty? And if Mr. Hargreaves has ceased to be Public Works Commissioner why should he rather than Mr. McLeod or Mayor May have the power to ratify or refuse to ratify plans for the construction of public works?

THE ash-pit of the Oxford Hot Water Boiler high back gives great depth for accumulated ashes, and, when ordered, is fitted with an ash sifter which separates the good coal from the dead ashes, thus, without any extra trouble, saving much fuel that is ordinarily thrown away.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The diameter of the fire-pot is greater at the top than at the bottom, preventing an accumulation of ashes around the most active part of the boiler.

The triangular revolving grate is hollow, allowing incoming air without permitting live coals to drop through. Dead ashes, clinkers, etc., are sharply cut off by a turn of the grate. The whole contents of the grate are dumped by a few extra turns.

We would like to tell you more about the Oxford Hot Water Boiler. Will you write for our book? It's free.

ASSISTANT HEALTH OFFICER SEVERELY CROSS EXAMINED

the hospital. The patients were charged with food, fuel and attendance. To Mr. Biggar, who asked Main if he considered $1.25 a day, exclusive of attendance, which had been charged one patient was a fair charge or represented what it cost for food and fuel. Main said it showed what good food they were getting.

To Judge Harvey he said that the total cost of running the hospital was given to him by the secretary-treasurer and he (Main) divided the total expense by the number of patients. The food of the nurses was included in the expense bill. The groceries were delivered at a place near the hospital. The nurses from the different wards came and picked out what they wanted from the pile.

Main saw Sullivan first on the 30th of April. The first complaint he heard of Sullivan being drunk was on the 4th of May. Main went on duty in his place that night. The next day Merkle objected to nursing with Sullivan. Main discharged Sullivan. The next day Sullivan returned with a note from Dr. Braithwaite. That was on the 6th. On the following Sunday Merkle complained that Sullivan was drinking the alcohol. Main telephoned to Dr. Braithwaite's office but Dr. Braithwaite was not in town. He told Dr. Wilson about the complaints, and that he did not want to take the responsibility of discharging him, seeing that he had already been sent back by Dr. Braithwaite. Dr. Wilson told him to lay Sullivan off and he would accept the responsibility.

Main made inquiries in the searlet fever ward and one of the patients told him that he had seen Sullivan drinking out of a cup and another that he had seen him drinking out of a glass. Dr. Braithwaite came out on Tuesday and Main told him what the patients had told him. He was not present at the investigation which Dr. Braithwaite made to learn if there was any truth in the charge against Sullivan. Dr. Braithwaite spoke to him afterward and said there was no truth in the charge. It was at the same time and during the same conversation that Dr. Braithwaite told Main to reduce Merkle's wages to $3 a day. Main told Merkle about it as soon as Dr. Braithwaite went away. That was when Merkle said he would quit.

Further examined by Mr. Beck, Main said that he had only seen Sullivan drunk once, and that since that time he had never seen him the worse of liquor, although he was handling it every day.

This concluded the investigation for the afternoon. Dr. Braithwaite was recalled this morning by Mr. Beck to explain why he made verbal reports. He said that when he made the reports in writing every little thing was published in the papers, after causing trouble, and consequently he made verbal reports. He thought it would look foolish to report the same thing in writing over and over again.

Mr. Biggar asked if he meant by that that he had reported faults connected with the hospital so often and had received no attention from the commissioners that he got tired.

Dr. Braithwaite said that was not exactly what he meant. To Judge Harvey Dr. Braithwaite said that the commissioners meet every morning and two of them were always at the city office. Anything of minor importance he reported verbally.

Re-interrogated by Mr. Beck he said that there was nothing that he demanded from the commissioners which he did not get. He had discussed matters with them and they advised that he should make the best of what he had and not order much stuff at the present time. He agreed with them in this respect.

Hewitt, the man known as Ned, was called by Mr. Beck. He looked after the patients in the searlet fever tent on the night shift during the week while Merkle was not there, between the 10th and 16th of May. He said that there was no difficulty in keeping the Asher boy's bed clean until the 12th, when he got bad again after the re-lapse. When the wet weather set in no blankets could be washed, as they had no place to dry them, but new blankets were put on the bed to replace those which had to be taken off the bed. They had eight pairs of new blankets.

Hewitt said the floor was scrubbed every day during fine weather and every alternate day during wet weather. To Judge Harvey, who asked if the tent did not need scrubbing more in wet weather than in dry, he said that it was useless to scrub so often in wet weather as the floor got so dirty.

Hewitt said that Dr. McGibbon complained of the tent being cold on the 12th, but that the fire was never allowed to go out.

Hewitt said he knew how to pasteurize milk, and that he pasteurized milk once for the Asher boy, but Sullivan did the pasteurizing on other occasions. Dr. Sullivan injected the serum on the night of the 12th, injecting it in his arm. When Dr. McGibbon arrived he kicked up a bit of a row, saying that it should be injected in the back.

Regarding the boy's foot, Hewitt said McGibbon told him that it was acutely searlet fever poisoning, and that this was enough to kill him. He mixed the wash for the foot, taking two pills of bichloride of mercury and putting in a bottle containing a certain amount of water. He believed that made a mixture of 1 in 1000. He poured a certain amount of it into a basin and added warm water. He thought that they were about equal proportions but did not measure either the solution or the hot water.

Judge Harvey reminded the witness that he had told Mr. Beck that he was instructed to use a mixture of 1 in 1000, and that he took what he thought was 1 in 1000 from the bottle and added what he thought was an equal part of warm water, which would make 1 in 2000. The witness could not explain the seeming inconsistency.

Mr. Biggar asked him how he knew the heat of the water. Hewitt said he tried it. When Mr. Biggar reminded him that he had told Mr. Beck that he did not put his hands in the water, Hewitt said that was before Dr. McGibbon told him. He said he washed his hands shortly before, but not immediately before, he changed the dressing on the boy's wound.

Hewitt denied that Dr. McGibbon had told him not to stick his dirty hands in the wash or had told him to throw the wash out because it was not properly mixed. He admitted that on one occasion, when Dr. McGibbon had said that the mixture was not strong enough he had poured more of the solution into the basin, which was already soaking in the basin, preparatory to being applied to dressing the boy's foot.

On the blanket question the witness was very badly mixed. He stated that they had no chance to get any washed four days, and later said that they did not do any washing until the Asher boy died. He could not tell Judge Harvey when these four days were, but he was sure they were not the four days previous to the boy's death. He knew that there were light clean blankets when he started, but he could not tell how many of them were used. He said that there were some of these clean blankets left when Merkle came back, but when closely cross-questioned he reasoned out that the blankets that Merkle took must have been clean because he saw Merkle take them and put them on the bed, and Merkle would not take them if they were not clean. He saw Merkle drying blankets before the stove, but supposed he was drying them in case he should have to fall back on them.

He telephoned Dr. McGibbon one night from Main's bedroom. Dr. Sullivan was there at the time from the diphtheria ward and took the telephoning out of his hands. Neither he nor Sullivan had been disinfecting before going to Main's room. Shortly after telephoning Dr. Sullivan went to the searlet fever tent to prepare some pasteurized milk for the Asher boy. Hewitt did not know whether Sullivan had disinfected himself or not; he did not think that he had time to do so.

Hewitt's recollection was very poor when it came to describing the process of mixing the pasteurized milk. Mr. Biggar questioned him for nearly half an hour, but he could not remember one item of the directions. Mr. Biggar read over the directions and asked him if he had followed them. Hewitt said that he did, but when Mr. Biggar undertook to go over the process of items Hewitt could not remember the items.

The first public meeting of the conference will be held to night in the McDougall Methodist church. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Daly on "education and light" and by the Rev. J. M. Harrison on "education and the church."

J. G. Clark, a farmer of the Mannville district, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Clark came recently from the Ottawa district, where he had one of the finest farms in the Province of Ontario, and has purchased 10,000 acres in the Mannville district.

London, Ont., Advertiser: The public school inspector of East Middlesex reports 78 fewer pupils on the roll than in 1904. The townships embraced in the East Middlesex inspectorate are among the finest in Canada. The attraction of the cities and of cheaper lands in the west is a constant drain on the population of rural Ontario.

NORRIS & ROWE CIRCUS

With the present circus season, the greater Norris & Rowe Show will celebrate its eighteenth birthday. It is but natural to suppose that in all this time that a vast quantity of equipment should be collected, so it was with considerable relief that Norris & Rowe accepted the offer of a small circus touring the middle west, to purchase all their old wardrobe, costumes, small cages, dens and chariots. When the clearance was effected, H. S. Rowe hurried to New York and there had made to his order all new big tents, tableaux wagons, chariots, cages; floats, etc., superb new wardrobe; attractive trap-pings for the horses and many novel up to date circus fixtures, so when the show appears here the young western circus men are confident that the public will agree with them that the title "The New and Greater Norris & Rowe Circus, Museum, Menagerie & Hippodrome," is the most appropriate name that could have been given the new show. Not an act of any kind has been retained from last season. Many of the European bare-back riders are making their first trip to this country and quite a number of athletes, mid-air performers and acrobats have never been in this section. The New and Greater Norris & Rowe Circus will give two exhibitions at Edmonton, Monday, June 18th.

WET GROUNDS; NO GAME

The Strathcona team came over to play ball last night and went onto the grounds, but just before starting time a shower of rain, which later increased to quite a storm, prevented hostilities and the boys from the south town had to go home without the inestimable privilege of being blanketed across the tally sheet by the Caps. Quite a number of the Strathcona boys who came up to see the game and pick up a few pointers, had to go home disappointed.

Another date will be arranged in the near future.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Lottie Ross returns tomorrow from a five months' visit to her sister, Mrs. S. S. Taylor of Nelson, B.C.

Alderman Picard is suffering from an attack of lagrippe and will be confined to the house for a few days.

DOMINION CONCERT COMPANY

The Dominion Concert Company deserved better weather and a larger audience than they had last evening. They gave one of the best entertainments that has been heard in this city for some time. Miss Badgley is an eloquentist of very exceptional ability and is able to render her selections in a manner that excites admiration rather than sympathy which is saying a good deal for the average eloquentist. The singing of Miss White was very much appreciated and enjoyed as was also the violin and piano selections of Mr. Leonard and Miss Mullins. Mr. Hontall does a little part, a scene in a livery house, that is pretty fair acting. It must have been discouraging to endeavor to entertain less than fifty people in the Theatre Rink and this company are to be commended for their courage in proceeding under the circumstances.

ASSEMBLY VOTES FOR UNION

London, Ont., June 13—At the Assembly meeting today, Rev. R. G. McBeth moved that the record regarding church union be not received but that the Assembly re-appoint the committee. Rev. J. C. Herdman superintending of missions declared that the west was strongly opposed to union, that there was little sympathy among the churches of the west for one another and that unless Presbyterians and Methodists got together the question of union might as well be dropped. McBeth's motion was lost by 111 to 67.

Rev. W. H. E. McInnis moved that congregations, presbyteries and synods be invited to make suggestions. Mr. McInnis' motion was lost and a vote adopted the report by 156 to 8. The discussion of union ended by the adoption of a resolution asking that Anglicans and Baptists be invited to take part in future discussions.

WHEAT TWO FEET HIGH

Winnipeg, June 13—The Canadian Pacific crop report shows that the weather has been favorable for grain growth during the past week. Heavy rains are reported from nearly all stations on the company's lines and have done much to help the growing crop. Early wheat at Chatter has reached the height of 24 inches.

MAY START NEW GRAND LODGE

Fort William, June 13—The opening of a new grand lodge of the Ancient order of Free and Accepted Masons in Saskatchewan is one of the subjects for discussion to be taken up by the annual meeting of the Manitoba grand lodge which opened last evening. The new district is thought to be powerful enough to be able to cope with the question and the grand master in his address last night offered encouragement to the formation of grand lodges by advising the forming of a new Alberta grand lodge.
